

PointStar Customer Support Knowledge Base

1. Google Cloud Platform (GCP) Billing

PointStar provides cloud services based on Google Cloud Platform (GCP). The billing system follows a flexible pricing model without upfront costs.

- Customers are charged using a pay-as-you-go pricing model based on actual usage.
- There are no additional termination fees when stopping cloud services.
- Google Cloud provides a 12-month free trial with $300 in credits for eligible customers.
- Billing details and usage information can be reviewed through the cloud management console.

2. Google Meet Hardware License

PointStar provides support for Google Meet Hardware solutions used for video conferencing needs.

- Customers can request information regarding hardware license requirements.
- License terms depend on the selected hardware and service plan.
- Additional assistance is available through PointStar support channels.

3. Refund Policy

- Customers can request a refund within 14 days after purchase.
- Refund requests must include valid transaction details.
- Refund eligibility must be verified based on the applicable service agreement.

4. Technical Support

PointStar provides technical assistance for cloud and AI-related services.

- Technical support is available Monday to Friday from 09:00 to 17:00.
- Customers can contact support for assistance with system configuration, service issues, and troubleshooting.
- Support requests should include relevant technical details to help the investigation process.

5. Service Issues and Escalation

Certain issues require additional review by human support agents. Requests must be escalated when they involve:

- Service outages.
- Data loss incidents.
- Security breaches.
- Critical technical problems requiring specialized investigation.

Critical cases should be reviewed by human agents before further response or resolution is provided.
